It's Apple Blossom Time At Antioch High's Prom

With soft lights, sweet music, and a springtime atmosphere, Juniors and seniors of Antioch High School will gather Saturday night for the big social event of the school year — the Junior-Senior Prom.

Music will be by the Blue Notes, and the theme of this year's prom will be "Apple Blossom Time." Dancing will be from 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m., and for most of the students, will be only the preliminary to their "big evening." Most couples will go on to other dine-and-dance places, some as far as Chicago. Prom night has become sort of a "stay awake" marathon, with many couples staying out all night, stopping for breakfast and a change into casual clothes, then on to an all-day picnic.

Highlight of the Prom will be the selection of the Queen, from candidates chosen by members of the Junior class. Candidates this year are Kathy Lessard, Barbara Close, Nancy Erickson, Norma Blumenschein and Carol Hribar. The identity of the Queen is announced near the end of the dance.

Prom King is the class president, Bruce Dalgaard. Escorts for the Queen candidates, also elected by the junior class, are Rich Mason, Jim Effinger, Bernie Smith, Tom Morgan and Paul Lindblad.

Chairmen of Prom committees are Tom Tantlinger, miscellaneous; Barbara Close, decorations; Joan Tanner, program; Mark Nelson, publicity; Connie Bakalis, refreshments; Carol Hribar, Queen and Court, and Carl Meade, Recruiting.

Gavin School Hosts Summer Speech Clinic

A special clinic for children with speech disabilities or problems will be held again this summer at the Gavin School, as well as in Waukegan, sponsored by the Lake County Easter Seal Society. "This is the second consecutive year that this program has been made available to county children," according to Pearl Alexander, director of the Easter Seal Treatment Program in Lake County.

Mrs. Alexander cited the success of the 1963 summer clinic held in Waukegan and the large number of children who received the benefits from this program, plus the demonstrated need that has been shown for such a clinic, as reasons for its continuance.

The program, under the direction of fully qualified speech therapists, will provide intensive therapy over a six week period for children with communication problems associated with speech or hearing.

The Gavin School was selected because of its central location.

Information concerning the program is available at the Lake County Easter Seal Treatment Center in Waukegan.

Locally-Known Man Hurt In Viet Nam

The war in Viet Nam, a far-away place of incomprehensible violence to most of us, touched Antioch last week through a letter to Mrs. Elmer Hunter from her daughter, June Hunter Clark. Mrs. Clark's husband Errol is stationed in Viet Nam. She wrote to her mother that she had received a letter from Errol dated April 27, telling her that he was in Saigon hospital. He and six other men, all officers, were sitting in an eating place in Rach Gia when a Viet Cong threw a hand grenade in their midst. Three of them were hurt.

Mrs. Clark's husband had a small piece of shrapnel in his lower leg, upper arm and some in the left side of his face and head. The worst effect, he said, was a ruptured left eardrum. His other ear, he said, was also affected.

Wash Cars For Next Year's Prom

Sophomores at Antioch High School are already thinking ahead to next year's Prom by starting to raise money for the big event. They'll wash cars this weekend at Weedy's Sinclair Station on the corner of Route 173 and 21 in Antioch this Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., with the proceeds to go into their Prom fund.

Form Chain of Lakes Chapter of Shriners

A Chain O' Lakes Shrine Club was formed at a dinner meeting at Lorenz's Smart Country House last Friday evening.

The local chapter of the Shriners is made up of members who live in this area.

Officers for this first year were elected and installed at Friday night's meeting. Robert Flakamp of Ingleside was elected president; Robert Dickson, Wauconda, first vice president; Jack Smith, Fox Lake, second vice president; Robert J. Wilton, Antioch, secretary; Roy Dreyer, Ingleside, treasurer, and Earle Watson, Fox Lake, chaplain.

Several members of the Medinah Temple in Chicago were present at the meeting.

Two Killed In Friday Night Crash

Miss Diana Boehm, 20, of Rt. 1, Box 177, Gurnee, and Thomas H. Kautenberger, 55, of Rt. 1, Box 356, Bristol, Wis., were killed in a head-on crash on Route 45 near Millburn Friday night at about 9:30 p.m.

Both were alone in their cars and were pinned behind the steering wheels.

Miss Boehm had been taken to Antioch by a friend, Clarence Ficker, Gurnee. She had had her car serviced, and was driving it home, following Ficker. Ficker said he had to swerve onto the shoulder of the road when Kautenberger's northbound car came into his lane of traffic. In his rear view mirror he saw Kautenberger's car collide with Miss Boehm's.

The two deaths Friday night brought the number of fatalities for the year in Lake county to 33.

Merchants Petition Board For Off-Street Parking

Channel Lake District "Broke"; Voters Reject Tax Raise

The Board of Education of Channel Lake School, with the school district out of funds, set the machinery in motion to issue tax anticipation warrants at its meeting Tuesday night, May 5.

On the advice of Attorney Ted Larson, the board voted to issue $25,000.00 worth of tax anticipation warrants. The school has no money to pay teachers' salaries or other bills until the tax anticipation money is deposited to their account.

The warrants will cost the school 3% interest. Attorney Larson recommended that the board issue enough warrants to meet expenses for some time. The low rate of interest, he explained, plus the red-tape involved, makes it a highly unprofitable transaction for a bank, and costs extra time and money when small, frequent amounts must be handled.

The meeting of the board was the first regular meeting since Saturday's defeat of the referendum asking for a 20c increase in the educational tax. The referendum was soundly defeated by a vote of 137-64.

The board agreed not to attempt to run the referendum again. "We've done all we can," Elmer Eberman, president of the board, said. "It just seems that people don't want to pay their freight as they go along. So we'll go into debt, and hope that some kind of a break will come."

The office of County Superintendent W. C. Petty, Mr. Eberman said, has recommended consolidation with Antioch school district, Emmons, or Grass Lake. Such a move, of course, would involve the consent of the district with which the school consolidated. In the event of annexation to the Antioch School district, Channel Lake residents would then pay the same school tax as the total consolidated district. Channel Lake's school tax at present is 1.21c, or $1.21 and six mills on every $100.00 of assessed valuation. Antioch Grade School District's tax rate is 1.47c, or $1.47 and 3 mills per $100 valuation.

Mrs. Myrna Jungman, Channel Lake School teacher, has accepted a contract for next year, at a Wauconda school, it was announced at Tuesday night's board meeting. Mrs. Jungman was offered $1,000.00 a year more than she received last year at Channel Lake school. The

Lake County Sales Of Savings Bonds

Lake County residents purchased a total of $330,468 in series E and H United States savings bonds in March, according to Philip L. Spidel, Lake Forest, Ill., general county chairman of the savings bonds committee.

Sales in the state of Illinois were $29,028,977, according to Arnold J. Rauen, State Director of the Treasury's Savings Bond Division. This is 5.9% below sales for March of 1963.

During the first three months of this year 27.8% of the state's quota of $355,500,000 has been reached, and Illinois purchases in March represented 7.2% of the national total which was $400,000,000 in the month. The cash value of series E and H bonds outstanding reached a total of $47,447,000,000, gaining $82,000,000 during the month.

Father of Mrs. J. Kopriva Dies

Lawrence William Hitchcock, 72, the father of Mrs. James Kopriva of Antioch died suddenly at his home in Evanston last Thursday, April 30. Funeral services were held Saturday morning in Evanston.

Mr. Hitchcock is survived by his wife, Virginia; three daughters, Mrs. Maurice Boyer of Zurich, Switzerland; Mrs. William B. Near, of Wheaton, Ill., and Mrs. Kopriva; one son, L. W. Hitchcock, Jr., of Butler, Pa., and ten grandchildren.

Mr. Hitchcock, Sr., was in the wholesale foods business, and was vice president and treasurer of the Red & White Co. He retired some time ago.

Chamber Discusses Future Promotions

Twenty-seven members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce met at the Savings & Loan community room Monday night to discuss future projects and see a movie about shoplifting entitled "The Million-Dollar Customer."

John Stevens, chairman of the Retail Sales committee, reported on the April Shower of Values sale. Most merchants were pleased with the response to the sale, he said.

The next promotion, Antioch Coupon Days, was discussed. The sale will run from May 21 through 27, and features values available with coupons.

Ken Zetterman, proprietor of Ken's Outlet Store, declared that Antioch stores should have hours from 12 noon to 9 p.m. There was some discussion on the suggestion.

The next general meeting of the Chamber membership will be in July.

Does Antioch Have Zoning Ordinance? - Jacobs Says Yes

A proposal by Antioch merchants to establish off-street parking in the rear of stores on the east side of Main St., and the question of Antioch's zoning ordinance, were two of the matters claiming the attention of the village board at its May 5 meeting.

Joe Patrovsky, representing a large number of Antioch merchants, presented a petition bearing about 170 signatures, asking the Village Board to construct a second street and a parking lot on the property lying behind the stores on the east side of Main St. Mr. Patrovsky pointed out the difficulty of making deliveries to these stores at this time, and the benefits of a secondary street in relieving Main St. congestion and in convenience to the public. The extra parking space, he pointed out, is badly needed now and will become more necessary as time goes by. Mr. Patrovsky asked that the board consider the matter as urgent, and try to take some positive action on the request before the next meeting.

Mayor Cunningham pointed out that this project had been considered several times, but never carried through. He named a committee of Elmer Peterson, chairman, Roger Williams, Ray Toft and himself to meet with the committee promoting the off-street parking.

Robert Taylor, a member of the merchants' group working on the parking lot proposition, pointed out that the committee has obtained the consent of most of the property owners to a right-of-way for the road, and has surveyor's reports and a plan laid out. He told the village board that the one small piece of property blocking the road for which a consent has not been obtained, owned by an out-of-town man, a Mr. Ferrar, could no doubt be obtained if the Mayor and a committee member were to go talk to him.

The matter of Antioch's zoning ordinance came up when a petition was submitted for the annexation of the property of Margaret Lubkeman into the village, with the south 268 feet of the property zoned R-1 (residential) and the north remainder zoned M-1 (light manufacturing).

Ernest Glenn pointed out that as the village had no zoning ordinance, the annexation must be made with the property zoned residential. Attorney Jacobs declared it was his opinion that the zoning ordinance which was presented to the people about two years ago was in force. "You hired a man to draw up a zoning ordinance," Mr. Jacobs said. "You paid him, and presented the plan at a public hearing. In my opinion, you have a zoning ordinance, and have been operating under it."

The board approved a petition for annexation of the Lubkeman property.

The Antioch High School students who were elected to take the place of village officials for student government day were present at the board meeting and thanked the Mayor and village officials for the opportunity to get a first-hand view of how the village is run. Le Nelson (Clerk) said she felt she had learned a lot and enjoyed it. Clarence Shuttis has said earlier that she took part in the regular office routine, accepting payments on water bills, etc., throughout the day.

Brad Brenna, treasurer, said he hadn't realized the treasurer's job involved so much work. He was speaking for himself and the student Supt. of Public Works, he said, in protesting the overtime parking tickets they received in the two-hour parking lot, as they were on village business.

John Bonner, Student Mayor, after thanking the board, recommended that free vehicle stickers be issued to all persons over 65 years of age.

Norbert Wolter, Supt. of Public Works said he was amazed at the number of duties Mr. Simonsen had, and thought he did a wonderful job. He would recommend, he said, that Depot St. be fixed.

Fire Chief Gary Kappel said he was impressed with the efficiency of the Fire Department and the way the men kept the equipment in perfect condition, considering that it is a volunteer organization. The amount of record-keeping done by Mr. Simonsen surprised him. He had no recommendations, he said.

The students held a mock village board meeting Wednesday night at the school.

John Blackman and Robert Dennis were at the board meeting to request a building permit for an apartment on Filweber Court. Chairman of Streets Roger Williams said they had agreed to construct a 22 foot road on Filweber, to be installed after the heavy construction on the building was completed, then to be maintained by the village. The permit was approved.

An application for a building permit for an apartment building on Filweber Court, by John Conville, was approved, subject to his agreement to repair the road.

The board's long-standing battle to reach an agreement with Sam Lerner, of Willowdale Dairy, on the amount due the village for sewer service to the dairy came to a head when Ernest Glenn reported that a meter installed at the dairy showed the plant used 14,700 gallons of water a day. This would mean, Glenn said, that his bill should be approximately $260.00 a quarter. Mr. Lerner has been paying $100.00 a quarter.

The meter, Glenn said, was installed on March 3, 1961. The dairy has its own water supply, but uses the village sewer.

The board instructed Attorney Jacobs to send a bill to Mr. Lerner, retroactive to the institution of the new water rates, with demand for payment within thirty days, with suit against Willowdale Dairy to be instituted if payment is not received.

The board discussed with engineer Frank Angelotti the matter of where to locate the new water line to be run south on Route 21, with no decision reached.

A request from the Antioch Woman's Club that Salvation Army Tag Day be held June 12 was approved.

A request from Oliver Hunt that the Antioch Grade School Band Parents be at-

Kids In The Battle Line

More and more, this generation seems to be using children as tools to fight the causes they espouse.

It's not a very admirable trend. The children of today will be the adults of tomorrow, and they're obviously going to have plenty of problems to cope with. It does seem as though today's adults should be able to work at solving today's problems without pushing school children into the front lines of the battle.

The fight for civil rights has brought school sit-ins, boycotts, and picketings by both negroes and whites. Parents have encouraged their children to ignore the authority that yesterday they were told they must obey. When and if the matter is settled to the liking of the adults, children will be expected to resume their attitude of proper respect. Can they?

In some cities, the Catholic church is threatening to close its schools in retaliation in their fight for Federal aid. Dumping these hundreds of parochial school students onto the public school system; they evidently feel, will win the fight for them. Perhaps it will, perhaps it won't. Certainly the children thrown out of their normal environment into schools unprepared for them, and the children customarily attending the public schools, will suffer. And they must lose much of their faith in the ability of their elders to settle their differences sensibly.

Increasingly, adults refuse to approve increased appropriations for school expenses. Is it because they think school taxes are too high? Not usually. They're overburdened with high income taxes, sales taxes and the hidden taxes they pay on every article they buy. Their vote against the raise in school taxes is usually a protest against all the taxes they must pay. It's easier to vote "No" to an increased school tax than it is to wade through the spending records of their government representatives at voting time, writing letters of protest to Congressmen when money is wasted, or letters of appreciation when a government official makes an economy move.

Over-protected children? Sometimes it seems that today's adults can't even wait for the next generation to grow up to solve the problems we've created.

The Antioch News,
Antioch, Illinois
Gentlemen:

I noted with interest your intention to publish a special article on the Antioch Rescue Squad. In order to set the record straight and prevent errors which occurred in a previous edition of the paper I wish to present the following facts:

The Squad was organized in 1939 or 1940 by Herman Rosing, Herman Holbek and myself. I served as the first captain of the Squad until called to military duty in June 1941. Herman Rosing served as lieutenant.

I also wish to call your attention to a recent article on the High School. Please be advised that six pupils including myself graduated from the present high school building in 1916 after completing a 4 year course, three years of which were spent in the old building. Walter Forbich, one of the graduates, who still resides in Antioch can verify the above.

Sincerely yours,
Laurel D. Powles

(Editor's Note: The news story in the Antioch News concerning the Antioch High School's 50th anniversary states that, "The first year of record at the school graduated in 1919." Mr. Dittman said that he presumed classes which transferred from the old school had graduated previous to 1919, but there are no records of these years available. We're sure the committee organizing the 50th Anniversary celebration which will be happy to have any information Mr. Powles can give them.)

Dear Sir:

In answer to a reader's recent letter to you on censoring and Moral Do-gooders, I would appreciate the printing of this letter.

First, let me say I am sorry she misunderstood the article you carried in your paper about the "Do Something About It Committee" for cumbents who did not run for delegate to the convention were spared the necessity of running in the primary and defending their records as representatives.

The delegates elected by the people of their districts in the primary were obviously planning to be candidates in the fall and if they were to be purged the time for the blood-letting was on April 14.

If the Republican Party leaders in Cook County want to circumvent Ward Committees who are aligned with the West Side Bloc or any other bloc by withholding patronage and tying their hands this is calculated risk within the party.

This does not give the Cook County leaders of the GOP the right to go to the representative nominating convention and eliminate candidates who have been approved by the voters of their districts in an open primary election.

One can's help wondering what action, if any, the Lake County Republican Central Committee will take to determine what happened to the tally sheets in the recent Coroner's primary.

From this corner it appears vital that Orville Clavey, the certified winner of the race, be completely exonerated of any complicity in the tally tampering.

If necessary to eliminate any stigma on the election the Central Committee should at least consider financing a discovery recount of the precincts in question.

The party owes this much to all the candidates on the ticket who will have to carry the burden of tampered tallies in the fall campaign.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Lilly Wahlquist

Moral Safety.

We are not a censoring body. There is a state law covering obscenity. We only encourage people to become aware of the law and then take note of the trash that is available at many stores and newsstands.

We ask that the merchants become aware of the law and decide whether he is offending community standards.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1957 that "Obscenity, being utterly without redeeming social importance, is not within the area of constitutionally protected speech or press."

Must our children learn of sex, perversion and sadism from cheap books on the newsstand? According to many prominent psychotherapists, police chiefs, and juvenile authorities there is a direct relationship between the stimulus of obscene publications and criminal behavior, both adult and juvenile.

We ask that all citizens stand up and be counted. Protect your children, protect your loved ones from these books and the people who might be stimulated to commit a crime after reading them.

Please don't think that everyone is "Sophisticated" and that this type of literature is a necessity of our times and has no effect on people. If books have no effect on us, why do we use them in schools? The problem will be discussed on WKRS Viewpoint on May 24. Also, I am available upon request to show a film "Perversion for Profit" to any social, fraternal, or religious group who is interested in discussing the problem as it really exists.

Sunday, May 10, is Mother's Day. In case you hadn't realized it, better get on the ball and start concentrating on some lovely surprise for your mother. Because if you don't honor motherhood generally, and your particular mother specifically on this day, you will feel like the All-American Rat Fink of 1964.

Mother's Day is wonderful for the merchants. Personally, I've always felt that it was designed primarily to give Mothers a chance to feel sorry for themselves, which is not any particular pleasure, unless you enjoy feeling sorry for yourself, in which case you won't need encouragement.

If you have to cook dinner on this day, this is enough to feel abused, with every ad saying, "Take Mother out to dinner on Her Day." If your children don't visit you next Sunday, you have cause to shed a few tears. If they do, you'll probably have to cook dinner for them, and take care of your grandchildren.

If your children are young and at home, you'll probably be too busy to feel sorry for yourself, but The Day is an open invitation of get mad at your husband for not presenting you with a gift as nice as the one the man next door gave his wife, who bought it for her because he knew he'd jolly well better or he would not be able to live with her for the next day.

Probably the nicest gift any mother could receive would be to have her whole family spend the day in happy accord, with no dissension, no criticism, and each one acting magnificently the role of brilliant and delightful Son, Daughter and Husband with which she has blindly endowed them. As this would require more self-control and acting ability than most people possess, it's unlikely that many mothers will receive this gift.

But anyway, Happy Mother's Day.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClary

The so-called "War on Poverty" set forth in H. B. 10-440, now pending before the House Committee on Education and Labor, should be considered in the light of its need, its costs and its election year implications.

There is no question but that we have serious conditions of poverty. These conditions exist to a much greater extent in some areas than in others. According to the best information which has reached me, conditions of poverty are regional sectional, vary according to racial and ethnic patterns, and depend largely upon the quality and extent of the individual and family education.

There is need for definite national action, but there is serious doubt as to the need for a new and overlapping program of vocational training or a new and supplemental work-study program.

Congresses and Administrations in the past have been conscious of the public needs in the area of poverty, education and employment. To use these conditions now as an election year excuse for establishing multiple programs, new and additional Federal payrolls and new types of appropriations (which are bound to increase in the future), reflects upon the American personality and the American tradition of concern for our fellow man.

Were not vocational rehabilitation, unemployment compensation, blind pensions, old age assistance and other Social Security benefits designed to alleviate or guard against poverty? In addition, Public Housing, Area Redevelopment, Accelerated Public works and other programs have been "sold" to the public and to the Congress as measures designed to provide better living for certain of our citizens.

Furthermore, just last year the Congress enacted two huge Federal programs: (1) the Manpower Development and Training Act, and (2) the Vocational Education Act of 1963—both designed to improve economic opportunity for our young people.

The Appraisers Job

There was a time, not so long ago, when a dealer appraising a customer's car would take a walk around it, glance at the tires, bounce it to test the shocks and "guess" he could allow so much.

In today's competitive market, a dealer cannot afford an "approximate" idea of what a customer's car might be worth. He must know exactly. If his appraisal is too low, he could lose the new car sale. If it is too high, he could lose money.

A quality dealer, therefore, is as much interested in the good points of a car being traded in as he is in the items that will need reconditioning. If he plans to retail the car on his own lot, and therefore stake his reputation on it, he must know the state of wear of the engine, transmission and other major components.

We are especially anxious to acquire top quality used cars, for these are the class of used cars for which we have a premium market among buyers who rely on our reputation for quality. They are always in short supply. Because of a pre-sold market, we can generally offer you more competitively for your trade-in.

This is not so with a dealer whose main appeal on used cars is low price alone. He finds difficulty convincing his prospects, lured to his lot by his low price appeal, that one particular offering is worth more than other worn-out models that have been dressed up to look good.

SPEAKING TO YOU Channel Lake...

By John Burlend
Director of Social Studies,
Rockford East High School

It is about time that some one said kind words about the United States Supreme Court. For the last decade it has been the custom to condemn, deplore, deride and denounce the Court as the destroyer of the Constitution and the enemy of true Americanism.

Just for the record, the Supreme Court is composed of nine men appointed by four U. S. presidents and confirmed by the Senate. Compare any of them with their opponents on the basis of character and integrity. For a moment let's take a look at their enemies. First are the members of the far right who have conducted a campaign against Earl Warren, Chief Justice of the highest court in the land. This campaign would do discredit to a grade school youngster calling across the alley. Certainly they have a right to demand the impeachment of Earl Warren, but it does little credit to their intelligence or their sense of balance.

When a court holds that a criminal has the right of a fair trial according to due process of law, it does not mean that the court has a bias in favor of criminals, or that it is attempting to subvert the Constitution.

The point is that if one criminal is deprived of his rights, then the rights of no one is safe. American justice extends to all: criminals, Communists or anarchists. It is a source of our strength. You may disagree with any court decision, but you do not have the right to call a man pro-criminal or pro-Communist because he believes that both should have the protection of law.

The Supreme Court has made mistakes; and being human they will make mistakes again. The fact that they are the highest tribunal in the land does not make them either archangels or supermen. On a matter of law they are clearly superior to the man who has never read a court decision and who takes his opinion second hand from an ex-candy bar salesman from Belmont, Mass.

The second group of critics represent the Ku Klux Klan and the White Citizens councils of the deep south. They argue that by reversing the decision handed down in 1896 in Plessy vs. Ferguson that the Court is making law and violating the principles of the Constitution. That was not the first Supreme Court decision that was overruled, nor will it be the last.

The Court began a retreat from the untenable position of the Plessy case as early as 1938 under Chief Justice Hughes. The Brown vs. School Board decision of 1954 was a 9-0 decision from a Court that included three Southerners: from Texas, Alabama and Kentucky.

Whose judgment do you take on what is the law of the land: that of a semi-literate denizen of the backwoods, or the U. S. Supreme Court?

The third series of attacks on the Court are involved with the order of the Court to the states to redistrict their legislative and congressional districts. Keep in mind that the legislatures that had refused to redistrict for 50 or 100 years, were in many cases defying the constitution of the several states.

Keep in mind that the graduate engineer in Atlanta had one-tenth the voting power of a tenant farmer from the red hills of Georgia with a sixth grade education. Keep in mind that Atlanta had no chance to get a fair deal from the county dominated legislature.

The Supreme Court could have avoided any decision, and there were members of the Court who urged the majority to stay out of this "briar patch" of redistricting. The Court believed that a great injustice was being done, so they exposed themselves to criticism in an attempt to cure a disgraceful situation.

Where do you belong? Are you in sympathy with the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society? Do you believe that there should be a dual school system: inferior for Negroes at every level?

Do you believe in due process of law, or would you take a short cut for alleged criminals and Communists? Do you believe in equal voting rights or should Atlanta and Hartford have a tenth of their voting power. We have a proud heritage of law and order in this country. We are approaching the end of the second century of constitutional government. The Supreme Court reserves the defense of responsible men and organizations against the noisy minorities who would impeach a Chief Justice because they disagree with him and change our government out of spite.

Your Congressman...

For instance, Title I of the "package" bill (H.R. 10440) would establish: (1) a Job Corps (for men and boys only) similar to the old C.C.C. camps but with emphasis on vocational training; (2) a work-training program to help in hospitals, schools, etc., providing no existing personnel are replaced (open to men and women); and (3) a work-study program to provide jobs for college students.

All of these programs are intended to be administered by the Federal government, all must be "approved" by the Federal "Director" and all will impinge on the existing Vocational Education, Man power Retraining or state or Federal scholarship programs.

Further comments on the "War against Poverty" will be made in a subsequent report from Washington.

Boys To Strut Their Stuff at Open House

Special Navy units known throughout the Midwest for their skilled performance, and an "open door" policy in the Navy technical schools are among the features of the Armed Forces Day open house at Great Lakes on Saturday, May 16.

Two drum and bugle corps, an all-WAVE drill team, a Navy band, and two Blue-jacket drill teams will strut their stuff at the open house. The all-day event begins at 9 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m.

Most of the special units will perform on Ross Field where many of Great Lakes' 2½ million trainees have marched, where a national football titles have been decided, and where the season's first outdoor graduation review of 1,000 recruits will take place May 16.

Basic and advanced training in 16 specialties is given in the technical schools that will be open to the public on Armed Forces Day. These include the Gunner's Mate School with its $25 million worth of guided missiles and naval ordnance, the Machinist's Mate-Bottommen Schools with its Destroyer propulsion plant and steam lab, and the electronics schools with their advanced equipment.

Great Lakes may be reached by Highways 42 and 137, by Waukegan-North, Chicago city buses, and by the Chicago and North Western Railway.

Open Gas Cans — A Summer Hazard

The Chicago Motor Club has issued a warning to motorists against carrying gasoline in improper receptacles or keeping them in a closed car or trunk compartment.

It was pointed out by the motor club that more and more motorists have been buying a gallon or two of gasoline for use in power lawn mowers or outboard motors.

In many cases, the gasoline is poured into buckets, jars, bottles, or uncapped tin cans which permit dangerous fumes to escape. This is particularly dangerous in spring and summer when hot weather increases the risk of explosion or fire.

Gasoline should be carried in a metal container that can be properly capped, according to the club. Even then, it is wise to have a window open, refrain from smoking, and not leave the car parked

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council
TEETHING DISCOMFORT
By Dr. Soren Avakian
American Academy of Science

New mothers in asking questions about baby's teeth often express concern about teething discomfort. They have heard that babies become irritable and lose appetite because of painful swollen gums and they want to know what they could do. Here are some of their questions:

Q: When will baby cut his first tooth? Is drooling a sign?

A: At four to eight months. Drooling is not a sign of teething.

Q: How long will it take baby to cut all his teeth?

A: New teeth appear at intervals until about the age of two when all 20 "baby teeth" should be through. The two lower central incisors usually are the first teeth to appear at four to eight months. The four upper incisors will appear at seven to ten months.

Q: Will teething make my baby ill and cause fever?
A: No, but it may make baby cranky and fretful and interfere with sleep and perhaps even appetite. Illness during teething is due to other reasons. Fever during teething usually is due to lack of fluids as a cranky and fussy baby doesn't drink enough liquids.
Q: Will teething cause diarrhea?
A: No. If it occurs, it's a coincidence.
Q: What about lancing the gums if the teeth are slow to come through?
A: Only if your doctor decides it's absolutely necessary. Baby's teeth should and they can and will come through by themselves.
Q: What else should I do if my baby is irritable?
A: Make sure he drinks enough fluids including milk, water and juices. If his appetite is off, offer foods baby likes. Give him a dried crust of bread to chew on, changing it when it becomes soggy. You may try a teething ring. Some babies prefer to chew on a clean cloth or blanket.
Q: Should I use aspirin, paregoric or other drugs?
A: Check with your doctor first. It isn't wise to use drugs without medical supervision. Many pediatricians recommend a teething lotion that is free of strong drugs and which is readily available without prescription.
Q: If my doctor suggests a teething lotion, when should

MISS DEB

... answers questions about Junior Miss etiquette, grooming and interests.

Q: My steady is always ranging double dates with a couple he met yesterday. I'm not sure if they're nice enough kids, but their personalities and mine just don't seem to click. I've dropped hints, but my boyfriend still makes dates with them and no one else.

A: If you've honestly tried to get to know and like this twosome, be frank and tell your boyfriend you'd enjoy going out with other people. Make it clear you don't expect to drop the regulars completely, since you wouldn't want him to sacrifice people whose company he enjoys. Perhaps his problem is that he's shy about making arrangements with people he doesn't know as well as this couple. Offer to handle "double" arrangements yourself once in awhile.

Q: There are some really cool boys in school that my girl friends and I would like to meet. Is there any way to get to know them without making them think we're chasing them?

A: Remember the old saying about "safety in numbers?" Well, there's also safety in numbers. Why don't you and your friends give a party as a "club" with all of you listed as hostesses. Sprinkle the names of those special boys throughout the guest list, and they'll never aspect that they're the real reason for the party. With the invitations issued from the club, or a group of hostesses, no one girl can be pegged with asking a specific boy.

Q: Whenever I have to talk to grown-ups, I freeze. There just doesn't seem to be anything to say to my parents' friends, or to my friends' folks when I'm in their homes.

A: Grown-ups aren't as different from you and your friends as you think. In fact, they're interested in many of the same things you are. Fashions (comment on the outfit your girlfriend's mother is wearing), sports (impress your boyfriend's father by knowing the ball scores), a play you've both seen or a little theatre production they may be involved with. Most important, relax and be yourself. Also, don't feel you have to keep up a steady chatter. Give the other person a chance to carry the conversation part of the time. And remember, just like you, adults like to talk about themselves.

Some men never outgrow the need for a wagon

A wagon has a way with men. Always has. Always will. Especially when it's a Dodge Wagon. Case in point: that Polara shown above. As rugged and handsome a carryall as you've ever laid hands on. Inside—saddle-grained vinyl that resists cracking, scuffing, shrinking, stretching. Hand fitted carpeting on the floor. A center armrest in front that snaps down solidly under your arm. And there's room. Big, open room you can cram to the roof. Seating for six or nine passengers. And underhood—a choice of engines ranging from a frisky Six to an optional, ripsnortin' 426 cubic inch V8. It's a tough combination to beat. Look 'em over at your Dodge Dealer's. The wagons that have a way with men—Dodge Wagons. Man-sized. Man-powered. Eight versions to pick from. (And you might as well bring along your better half. Seems the gals prefer the big, strong, silent type, too.)

Church Votes To Absorb Negro Units

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 1—The Methodist Church has overwhelmingly adopted a plan to eliminate its Central (Negro) Jurisdiction.

It is expected that first steps will be taken this year and a final plan for termination of the Central Jurisdiction will be presented in 1968. If its abolishment has not been accomplished by that time.

The plan was adopted after nine-and-a-half hours of debate Thursday and Friday.

The plan provides for voluntary absorption of Negro churches and conferences by the geographic jurisdictional conferences and annual conferences, such as the Rock River Conference. It also spells out the financial and other responsibilities the church will undertake in order to make the transfer possible.

The 1964 Central Jurisdictional Conference, meeting in July, will realign the boundaries of its annual conferences to facilitate merger.

Identify Your Tax Payments

The Internal Revenue Service receives hundreds of payments that are placed in the suspense account because they cannot be identified with any tax account or taxpayer. Over five thousand unidentified payments totaling over one and three quarter million dollars are now deposited in the suspense account, E. C. Coyle, Jr., Director of Internal Revenue of the Chicago District, announced.

The District Office makes every effort to identify these payments or locate the senders. However, the payment remains in the suspense account until it is properly identified.

With intermittent rain coming down and part of the track soaked with pooling water, the Sequoia took first in six of the running events and one field event to cap the Salem Invitational track meet Friday night.

Competing against 11 schools from the Wisconsin area, the Sequoia weathered the cold and rain to total 61½ points to 36 for their nearest rival, Burlington, Wis.

In the order of their finish and their point totals were: Antioch, 62½; Burlington, 36; Oak Creek, 26; Clinton, 23; Lake Geneva, 18½; Pewaukee, 17; Wilmot 11; Watertown, 6; Salem Central, 3; Big Foot, 3; Union Grove, 3; St. Francis, 2.

Bruce Dalgard and Tom

Morgan accounted for two first place finishes each. Dalgard won the 120 yard high hurdles and the 180 yard low hurdles while Morgan was adding ten points to the Sequoia total in the hundred yard dash and the 220.

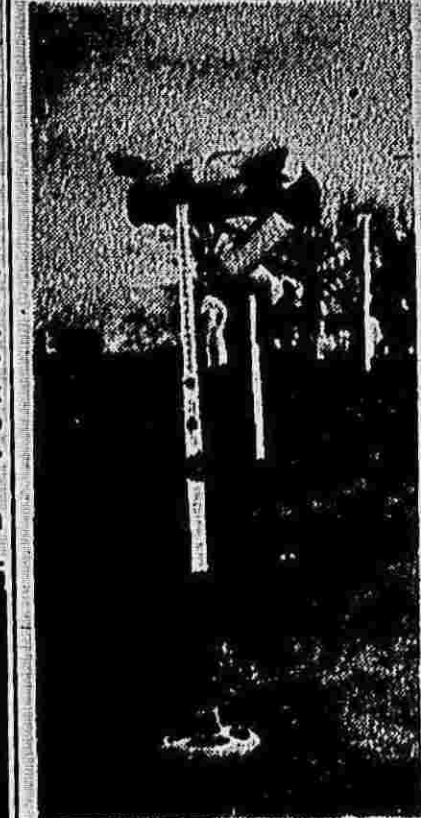

Although no records were broken, Coach Roger Andrews said that "some of the times turned in were very good considering the condition of the track."

Tom Tantlinger won first place in the 440 with a time of 55 seconds flat. Jim Effinger finished in a dead heat with Dielman of Lake Geneva to split first and second place points. Bob Schenk took first in the high jump with a 5' 9¾" effort and the Antioch 880 relay team accounted for the only other first place finish. Schenk failed narrowly in his bid to beat the meet high jump record of 6' ¾".

John Brady, Vince Casella

and Jim Edwards picked up four points each with second place finishes in the 160 yard low hurdles, the shot put and the high jump respectively. John Sheppard finished in a three way tie for 2nd in the pole vault to add 3 points to the Sequoia total.

The Sequoia placed in all but two events, the mile run and the medley relay.

BOB SCHENK just missed on this try for a record 6' 1¾" jump at the Salem Invitational meet Friday. Bob had already won the high jump event with a leap of 5' 9¾" when he made his try at the record.

Roll-Off In Moose League for First

The Antioch Moose Mixed League wound up its season Sunday night with four teams competing for first place and a final tie between two of the teams that resulted in a three-game roll-off.

Charcol House emerged the final winner of the roll-off after taking two games away from The Corners—all three games so close they were decided in the tenth frame.

The last night of league bowling started with the Charcol House, The Corners, and Antioch Landscaping in a tie for first place, with Atwood's Floor Covering a half game out. Atwood's took 2 games from Antioch Landscaping, so both of those teams were knocked out of contention, with Charcol House taking two from the Swizzle Sticks and The Corners taking two from Antioch Hearing Aid Center.

Charcol House will receive the trophy at the League banquet on Saturday night, May 9.

Wilmot Race Track Opens On May 16

The Kenosha County Fair Grounds Speedway at Wilmot, Wis., has announced that its opening date for stock car racing will be Saturday night, May 16. Time trials will begin at 7:00 p.m. and the first of nine events each race night will begin at 8:30 sharp. The stock car racing season will end with Saturday, September 5.

According to Jim Smith of Patenjim Auto Racing a new clay surface has been applied to the track. All that remains to be done now is the compacting of the new clay. This work is expected to be completed this week.

For greater safety and peace of mind, the Wilmot oval has added to its already ample fire fighting equipment through the purchase of a 200 pound "Purple K" dry chemical fire extinguisher. The Purple K chemical was originally developed by the U. S. Navy and is second to none in its fire fighting qualities. Smith says that he believes that there is probably only one race track in the nation that privately owns more fire fighting equipment. "Perhaps it isn't necessary to have as much fire equipment as we have but nevertheless fire around a stock car can create an extremely dangerous condition due to the highly inflammable fuels used, and since all big fires start out as small fires, we want to be there first with the most."

The greatest news of the new race season Smith feels, is a new 15 minute radio program sponsored by Patenjim

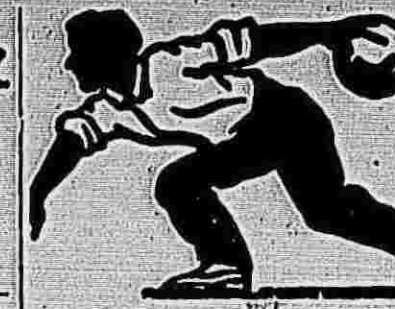

Auto Racing, which will bring to auto racing fans in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois news of auto racing throughout the country. The program which begins Saturday, May 16 will be called "Jack at the Track." It will be carried every Saturday at 5:15 p.m. over Radio Station WLIP 1050 on your dial from Kenosha. "Jack," the program's commentator is Jack Biddison of Northbrook, Ill. Biddison, a former Peoria radio announcer and race promoter is beginning his third year as the Kenosha County Speedway's race announcer. For his first program, Biddison hopes to present "interviews" with such racing greats as A. J. Foyt and Jim Hurtubise, both of the 500 mile fame, direct from the Indianapolis Raceway Park's Yankee 300 race. Jack will make predictions on races coming up as well as present news of races just run previous to the program. It is intended also to bring the fans the inside news.

If, as is expected, the program catches on, Smith has stated that he will negotiate with the radio station in order to expand the 15 minute period into a 30 minute show. He said that there is enough interesting racing news to justify a longer program but he wants to determine its popularity before he decides.

Can't Limit Boat H. P., Says Judge

Boating won a test case of national significance April 17 as a Racine County (Wis.) Court declared unconstitutional a town of Burlington ordinance prohibiting use of motors of more than 50 horsepower on boats, according to the Outboard Boating Club of America.

The suit was filed by Carl J. Leiske, a lake resident and owner of a boat with a 75-horsepower motor. Because of the far-reaching implications of the case, OBC and other organizations and individuals came to the plaintiff's support with a group of expert witnesses.

In making the precedent-setting decision, County Judge Thomas P. Corbett said the ordinance was not a local regulation of the type permitted by the Wisconsin Boating Act of 1959, but rather "It is a regulation of state-wide concern and adversely affects all people of the state."

"It is an attempt under the guise of a local regulation authorized under state statute to prevent persons from using navigable waters of the state; and to deny all persons who would attempt to operate a motorboat having a motor of more than 50 horsepower on the waterways of the town of Burlington 'the same rights they have in and to any other public or navigable water,'" Judge Corbett asserted.

Judge Corbett also noted that if the state boating act sought to authorize local horsepower limits, the authorization would violate the state constitution—based on a provision of the Northwest Ordinance of 1787—which provides that navigable waters are public waters which should be free for the commerce, travel and recreation of all the citizens.

The judge also pointed out that the ordinance is unconstitutional because it enacted a classification which did not bear a fair and reasonable relation to the object in respect to which it is proposed (i.e., as a method of controlling speed).

Judge Corbett cited the testimony of three expert witnesses provided by OBC: Donald E. Reed, OBC manager of Engineering, Grant Thompson, president of Cruisers, Inc., and Joseph V. Day, National Instruction officer of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. Their testimony, Judge Corbett said, established that the speed of a boat depended upon: "The weight, length, beam and shape of the hull, together with the power of the engine."

The arbitrariness and capriciousness of the ordinance is best brought out in that it has the effect of prohibiting the use of a family boat 17 feet in length, with a 6½-foot beam, powered by a 17-horse engine capable of driving the boat to a maximum speed of 33 miles an hour, while it would permit a hydroplane to be used, with a 10-horse power engine capable of driving said boat 45 miles per hour," the jurist said.

In halting the decision, OBC termed it a "double-barreled victory," in that it provides a powerful deterrent to the regulation of horsepower by any local or state agency, and it will stimulate the current campaign in Wisconsin for enactment of a law giving a state agency the power to enact boating regulations, lake by lake, throughout the state, subject only to the veto of the local municipality. Michigan has had such a law since 1962.

The Burlington Town Board will meet to determine whether they will appeal to the state supreme court. The vigor and breadth of Judge Corbett's decision against them may deter such an appeal, attorneys on the case say.

Jet Dragsters To Race At Union Grove

Racing fans who have been asking each other: "Just how fast can a jet dragster go?" will have something to talk about this coming Saturday and Sunday, at the Great Lakes Dragway, Union Grove, Wis.

Doug Rose, who was born and raised in Milwaukee, left three years ago to race jet dragsters and returns this weekend holding the world speed record of all drag racing.

Rose will be driving the famous jet-engine dragster, "Green Monster," owned by Walt Arfons of Akron, Ohio. The monster sports a 7,000 h.p. aircraft jet and with Rose as the pilot set the record of 253.37 mph in a quarter mile from a standing start last January 17th. He will be racing this weekend, May 9th and 10th, in hopes that he will better this record.

The "Green Monster" with Rose behind the wheel will be shooting to better his present world record. Saturday's races will be at night starting at 8 p.m. but with the flames shooting out the afterburner more than 100 feet, the dragstrip lit up like it's high noon. Sunday's races will be at 2 p.m. The dragstrip is located 20 miles south of Milwaukee on Highway 45 at Union Grove, Wis.

Planning Commission To Receive P.S. Grant

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission will receive a $136,000 federal grant to help finance a metropolitan-wide study of air pollution in the six-county North-eastern Illinois area, it was announced today by U.S. Urban Renewal Commissioner William Slayton. Slayton announced that the Planning Commission would receive grant under the terms of a '701' federal urban planning grant.

James V. Fitzpatrick, Director of the Chicago Department of Air Pollution Control, said the study is the first of its kind in the nation.

The new study is aimed at a preventive strategy for minimizing air pollution through land use planning and regulation. The project will include:

1. Gathering existing data on air pollutants and meteorological, economic and health factors;
2. Analyzing the data in relationship to existing and future land use and alternative development patterns, and
3. Recommending to local governments a cooperative strategy for managing the air resources of Northeastern Illinois.

Most of the local funding for the 24-month project will be provided by the City of Chicago in the form of $50,000 in non-cash services by the Department of Air Pollution Control. This will be supplemented by $15,000 from the State of Illinois and $3,000 in Commission funds to make up the $68,000 local share.

Matthew L. Rockwell, executive director of the Planning Commission said the Commission's agreement with the City of Chicago through its Department of Air Pollution Control is an excellent example of planning cooperation to solve a problem which affects all of us in the metropolitan area—city, counties and suburbs.

"This is the first time the City of Chicago and the Planning Commission have entered into a contract for non-cash services," he said.

PUBLIC SERVICE'S SHOWMOBILE

Public Service "Shows and Tells"

Public Service Company had added wheels to the "show and tell" technique with a new electric Showmobile currently calling on local industries.

The new vehicle is a mobile theater-showroom used to demonstrate modern methods of electric process heating to plant managers and their supervisory staffs.

Interior walls of the van are paneled with displays of electrical devices and photographs of the equipment at work. The traveling showcase is equipped with a comfortable lighting system and an electric heat pump for year-around comfort conditioning. For talks by a utility representative, it also has a slide projector, screen and folding chairs.

The doctor's waiting room was crowded, including a Senior Citizen, who had been waiting a long time.

After several others came in, having to stand for lack of chairs, the Senior Citizen stood up and said, "Well, I guess I'll go home and die a natural death."

Musical Magicians Of P.M.&L.

Maja Cardiff, the assistant director of Mac Ryan's new musical, "Nothing Ever Happens in This Town," is also playing a small part in that production.

Although directing is new to Maja the stage is not. She has appeared in "Stage Door," "George Washington Slept Here," "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "The Lottery" in addition to Mac's last musical, "All for One."

Maja has studied voice under John Lennon and has taken lessons in ballet, modern and acrobatic dancing.

After a year's absence Maja returned to become an active member of P.M.&L.

"Nothing Ever Happens in This Town" will be presented June 19, 20, 26 and 27, at the Palette, Masque & Lyre Theatre.

MAJA CARDIFF

Lucille Evanoff, the choreographer for "All for One," assisted Mr. Ken Smouse in "H. M. S. Pinetree" and the assistant director of "Mr. Robert," is the choreographer in Palette, Masque and Lyre's June musical production, "Nothing Ever Happens in This Town."

Lucille studied dance at the New York Conservatory of the Dance in Milwaukee, under the late Mario Pranno. At 16 she began teaching at that school and toured the midwest in the summer months. During the winter she appeared for John Anello of the Arion Music Association in "Carmen," "Faust," "La Traviata" and others.

In 1953 Lucille performed with the Sam Howard Aqua Follies of Coral Gables, Fla., as a dancer, swimmer, diver and choreographer. The show later toured the United States, Central America and Jamaica.

Lucille has been with P.M. & L. since January 1963 and serves on the executive board as dance director.

Attorney General Gives Legal Rulings

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The statutes expressly prohibit a Commissioner of the Lake County Forest Preserve District from holding the office or employment as a deputy ranger, Atty. General William G. Clark has advised State's Attorney Bruno W. Stanczak of Lake County. He also advised Mr. Stanczak that a township which levies a special road tax in excess of not less than .08% of the full fair cash value of all taxable property as equalized or assessed by the State Department of Revenue is qualified to receive motor fuel tax funds.

Channel Lake School's Educational Tax Referendum was defeated for the second time, Saturday, May 2, by a margin of more than two to one. The voting turnout was light and according to the judges, the turnout of parent voters was very poor.

Loren and Martha Kimmy of Lake Avenue are grandparents for the fifth time. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fietag became the proud parents of a 6 lb. 4 oz. daughter on April 28. The baby has been named Tina Marie. The Fietags reside in Oakwood Knolls Subd. in Antioch and have another daughter, Debbie, 3 years old. Fred is the Kimmys' son.

The seventh and eighth grades of Channel Lake School will present a one act play Friday and Saturday, May 15 and 16. The play is entitled "Are We Dressing?" The play will be given in the school gym and will be sponsored by the PTA. It is under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Enzenbacher and Mrs. Louise Gutowski with the help of Mrs. Barbara Bjork and Mrs. Mary Bierman.

The Community Club will sponsor a Card Party Saturday, May 23 in the Channel Lake School gym. The party will begin at 8 p.m. and there will be prizes and refreshments will be served.

Long time resident and father of Thomas Runyard, passed away Sunday at the home of his son, where he had lived for several years. Mr. Runyard is also survived by another daughter in California, 10 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren. Mr. Runyard was 85 years old and was one of the pioneer settlers in this area, moving here from Trevor 80 years ago. The barn on his farm was one of the famous landmarks in Channel Lake until it burned down about ten years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Frozeth returned May 1 from a trip to Florida, where they visited many cities and enjoyed many of the sights. While in Florida they helped celebrate Mr. Frozeth's younger brother's 75th birthday.

There has been a wave of automobile tire stealing in the area. These thieves take the tires right off your car as it sits in your driveway.

If your dog starts barking some night you'd better investigate or you may find yourself late for work in the morning.

Opens Barber Shop

A new barber shop opened at the Antioch Bowl May 1—a new shop, but a familiar proprietor.

Roy Pearey, who had a barber shop on Lake Street in Antioch across from the Jewel Tea Store for several years, will open a shop in the space formerly occupied by Vos' Liquor Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearey have had a home in Antioch since 1952, and moved here permanently from Chicago six years ago. Elsie Pearey formerly ran a dry-cleaning establishment on Lake St. and now does sewing and alterations at One-Hour Martinizing.

Mr. Pearey has pursued his trade in barbershops in Lindenhurst, Mundelein and Libertyville since closing his Lake St. shop 1½ years ago.

Coming - Everybody Loves Opal

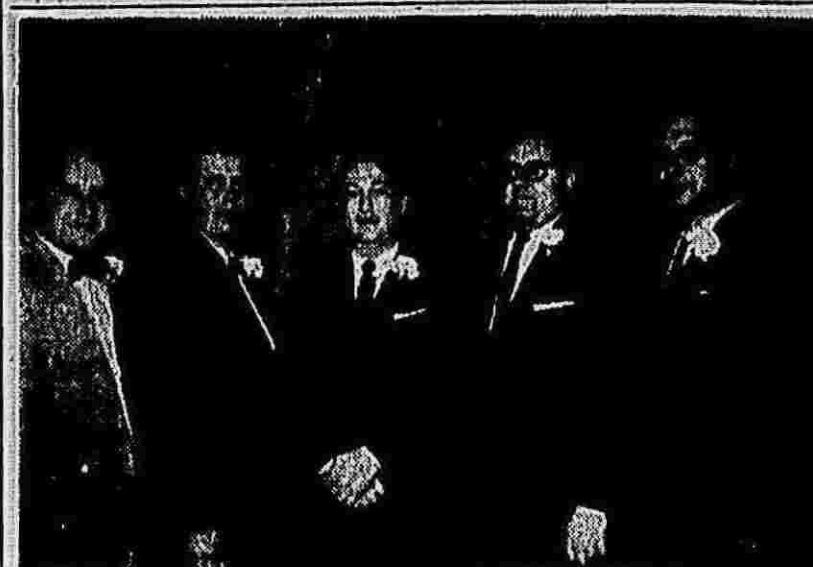

"Everybody Loves Opal"—and everybody, according to Director Agnes Van Patten, loved the play when it was presented last year by the P.M.&L. So they're bringing it back for the weekend of May 22 and 23, complete with most of the original cast.

The play will be at the P.M. & L. Theatre in Antioch for one weekend only.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

EXPECTANT MOTHERS: BEWARE OF GERMAN MEASLES

Warning to expectant mothers: if you have NOT had German measles, alert your physician to this fact immediately. The health and well-being of your unborn infant may depend on it.

Although a relatively mild childhood disease, German measles—also called rubella—can produce terrifying birth defects in infants born to mothers who contract the disease during the first three months of pregnancy.

These defects include cataracts, heart disease, deafness and—worst of all—mental retardation. In some cases, the mother may lose her baby.

So dangerous is this threat that many authorities suggest exposing young girls to German measles so that they achieve immunity to it before reaching the reproductive age.

Its principal symptoms—rash, fever, runny nose and swelling of the glands at the sides of the neck—are similar to those of measles, but less severe. The rash rarely itches and lasts only three days. Prior to onset of symptoms, there is an incubation period of 14 to 21 days.

Unlike measles, which is the deadliest infectious killer of all childhood diseases, German measles in children is associated with a low fatality rate and virtually no serious complications. It is only in the unborn infants of mothers infected early in their pregnancy that German measles becomes a deadly, dangerous disease.

Fortunately, medical science has an effective weapon with which to protect unborn infants from the ravages of rubella. Its name: gamma globulin.

This substance—obtained from the blood plasma of persons who have recovered from German measles—contains antibodies which temporarily immunize the mother and thereby protect the infant. To be effective, however, it must be administered to the mother immediately after exposure to German measles. Once the incubation period has started, it is too late for the gamma globulin to afford adequate protection.

Epidemics of German measles may occur every few years during the spring months. This spring Illinois experienced an 86% increase in German measles over the same period last year. In Chicago the increase was more than 500%. When such epidemics occur, or when direct exposure is suspected, waste no time in seeing your physician.

Recent isolation of the rubella virus marks the first step toward developing a specific vaccine which will impart long-range immunity against this disease. Until the promise of this new vaccine is realized, however, expectant mothers should not gamble with German measles. The stakes are her baby's health—and the odds are against her.

No Blue Book Yet, Says Chamberlain

Springfield, Ill., May 4—Secretary of State William H. Chamberlain said today the 1963-64 edition of the Illinois Blue Book will be available for distribution in October this year, the same time of year past editions have been published.

Secretary Chamberlain said he was making the announcement of the publication time because it has come to his attention that erroneous reports are being circulated that the book is available now.

A vacation should be just long enough for the boss to miss you, and not long enough for him to discover how well he can get along without you.
